

AMERICA A WELL-DRESSED NATION

In the Matter of Dress America Stands Foremost in the World.

EVERY MAN A BEAU BRUMMEL

It is the Exception Rather Than the Rule to See a Man With Ill-Fitting Clothes—Just the Opposite in Every Other Country.

Calamity howlers may shriek that the country is going to the dogs, but the very clothes that they wear give the lie to their pessimistic assertions.

These do not calamity howlers have been with us ever since we became a nation, and we shall have them with us, like a thorn in the flesh, until the end of time, but if the dear creatures would take stock of their own appearance in this year of grace, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven, and then would take the trouble to compare it with the appearance they presented a decade ago, even their dull brains would see that they are much better dressed.

Mayer & Pettit have no patience with such pessimists.

The high-priced merchants may well about drill times, because the people have grown weary of extortion, but there is no such thing as doll times in Mayer & Pettit's great double store and annex, 415-417 Seventh street, because the people know that there they can get full value for their money.

Where else is it possible to buy an All-wool Custom-made Suit, perfect fitting and stylish, at $6.50? Or a Crash Suit, made of fine linen crash at such a price as $1.98?

Times may be dull and the price of silver low, but prices like these make well-dressed men in the dullest of times; and if dull times means being able to buy luxuries that we could not expect to buy in good times, then let us have dull times.

The credit of the country is all right, and your credit is all right at Mayer & Pettit's for your clothing as well as your furniture.

MISS FAIRBANKS ELOPES

Daughter of the Senator Marries Against His Will.

WILL PROBABLY FORGIVE HER

The Bridegroom Is Dr. Horace R.
Allen, Jr., of Indianapolis, to Whom the Young Lady Has Long Been Engaged—Feared a Separation, and Therefore Married.

Indianapolis, Aug. 13.—Miss Adelaide Fairbanks, daughter of United States Senator Fairbanks, and Dr. Horace R.
Allen, Jr., evaded the eye of an opposing parent today and were quietly married at the residence of a mutual friend. The parties have been engaged for several years, but the Senator has refused to give his consent to the marriage. It is said that Mrs. Fairbanks was also opposed to her daughter's marriage.

At noon today, Rev. Ballard, of the Memorial Presbyterian Church, was called upon by Augustus Boice, assistant to official at the marriage of Dr. Allen and Miss Fairbanks. He reached the Boice residence, found the couple in waiting, and the ceremony was performed. The only persons present were Mr. and Mrs. Boice and another married couple.

Senator and Mrs. Fairbanks returned from Washington last night and informed their daughter that they had arranged for her to make an extended trip East. She immediately notified Dr. Allen and they reached the conclusion that the Eastern trip was dedicated to separate them and they determined to marry at once.

Dr. Allen hastened to the clerk's office with a friend to secure a license and a few moments later the Senator's daughter was Mrs. Allen.

Dr. Allen is twenty-five years old, a graduate of Yale and of a New York medical college.

Miss Fairbanks is of an only daughter and is twenty years of age.

Dr. and Mrs. Allen were at the residence of a friend late this afternoon, and it is not known what the Senator will do, but it is presumed that the daughter will be forgiven.

A Trunk Merchant's Suicide.

Norwalk, Conn., Aug. 13.—The body that was found in the pond on Wednesday afternoon is that of Benjamin Dickinson, New York, proprietor of a trunk store at Twenty-third street and Sixth avenue. Benjamin Dickinson, Jr., said that his father for some time had shown signs of mental weakness. He left his home last Friday and did not return. The description of the body found off Norwalk tallied so exactly with that of the missing man that he was at once identified. He thought his father had committed suicide.

The Elements Rage in Mexico.

Nogales, Ariz., Aug. 13.—Southern Arizona and Northern Mexico were visited yesterday by a terrific rainstorm. All the telegraph lines between Nogales and Guaymas are down and the greater part of the Southern Railroad is washed out. A cloudburst above this city filled the stream that flows through the place and flooded the greater part of Nogales. The three bridges were washed away. Several houses were washed away and a number of Mexican families are homeless.

High Value on a "Sherry Flip."

Buchanan, N. Y., Aug. 13.—Ellis Abbott has begun an action against Sears & Ryan, the liquor men, for $5,000 damages for refusing to sell her a "sherry flip" for her friend, Charles Clark, and a beer for herself. Both are colored.

MANIAC GUARDS THE LIGHT

Crews in His Hands.

DESPERATE BATTLE FOR LIFE

Capt. Allen, the Lighthouse Keeper's, Hand-to-Hand Struggle With the Lunatic—He Gets Away, but Is Pursued and Fired Upon by the Madman.

Narragansett Pier, R. I., Aug. 13.—Whale Rock lighthouse, three miles northeast of here, is in charge of a drunken maniac, the assistant keeper, Henry Nygriffe. This evening, after drinking heavily all day, he worked himself into a murderous frenzy, attacked Capt. J. J. Allen, the lighthouse keeper, with a cutting knife, drove him from the island, pursued him to the mainland in a boat, and only retained when his intended victim succeeded in getting a home and making his escape.

Reached here tonight, terribly bruised and exhausted, and told the story. The light of Whale Rock is burning low, but people here are watching it anxiously, for nobody knows at what moment the man in charge may see fit to turn it out and put vessels in peril.

Nygriffe is a middle-aged, strongly-built Swede, who has been employed at Whale Rock for several years. Ordinarily he is of a peaceful disposition, but when in drink he is dangerous. This morning the man started in with the intention of getting drunk by evening he was furious. The captain went up in the tower this evening and locked himself with the lamp, preparing to fight it. While he was thus engaged the assistant climbed the stairs stealthily and stepped into the tower. He had a cutting knife in his hand.

A quips swoop of the knife so narrowly missed Allen that it slit the back of his coat almost the entire length. His opponent then clutched with him. Allen so turned that his weight was thrown on Nygriffe's right arm. Then began a breast to breast wrestling match with life or death at the result, and no human being within three miles. The powerful Swede tried to wear his enemy down by superior strength, but the captain is wiry and agile, and played a defensive game, exercising his own strength only to meet the attacks of the other.

Nygriffe's best effort could not get the captain off his feet and he was beginning to weary. Both waited, neither daring to release the other. Presently the Swede renewed his wrestling tactics. Allen, seeming to be worn out, but still keeping his feet, kept edging toward the knife which had been knocked out of Nygriffe's hand and dragging his subordinate with him.

Both men were almost stepping on top of each other when suddenly the Swede, with a cry of triumph, the Swede stopped. His fingers were almost on the handle when a foot shot out and the knife went rattling down the stairs. From step to step it fell, and stopped half way down. With a common impulse they sprang apart. The Swede ran for the weapon. Allen was at the window in three steps. A rope hung inside.

To throw it out, climb out the window, and swing himself outside took but a second. Half way down to the ground he felt Nygriffe lacking at the rope. Allen did not stop to verify that his hands were badly torn, but he was safer on the ground and within a few rods was moored his rowboat. Into this he jumped and headed for the nearest point of the shore two miles away.

Nygriffe, instead of starting out at once, ran back, and a moment later appeared with a gun in his hands, leveled it, took careful aim at the fugitive, and fired twice, but missed.

Then Nygriffe threw his gun into an other boat, jumped in himself, and pushed off.

Allen's hands were bloody and he was weak from wounds, but still he seemed to be holding even with his pursuer and landed nearly 200 yards in front. As he jumped out of his boat the Swede fired two more shots, then fell to his ears again.
Allen ran straight for the nearest road, plunging through a cornfield, where he fell several times.

Down some two miles and a half lay Narragansett Pier. A few rods ahead was a farmhouse and hitched to a post was a horse. The exhausted man ran into the yard, where he was met by the farmer, who helped him upon the animal's back, and guided him away bareback and clinging for his life.

Probably a revenue cutter will be sent to arrest Nygriffe.

A RIOT AT FULTON.

Seven Men Injured, One of Whom May Die.

Fulton, Ill., Aug. 13.—An attempt here today to steal the books of Head Clerk Hawes office of the Modern Woodmen of America on the part of nearly 500 men from Rock Island, who came on a special train, caused a serious riot.

Fulton was forewarned and a vigorous alarm of fire calls for help brought out hundreds of Woodmen and citizens to repel the invaders.

Many shots were fired, clubs, rocks and missiles of all kinds were used, and many persons injured.

The list of the more seriously hurt includes seven men, two of whom are in a dangerous condition, and one may die.
Quite a number of Rock Islanders are more or less hurt. They secured a few boats before they were stopped, but are penned in the train by armed deputies.

THE N. P.'S NEW PRESIDENT.

Mellen Accepts the Position and Will Soon Assume the Duties.

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 13.—C. S. Mellen, second vice president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, who was elected president of the Northern Pacific last evening, arrived here last evening. This morning he said he accepted the position and would leave for St. Paul September 6.
The appointment dates from September 1.
President Mellen stated that his election to the presidency of the Northern Pacific was unanimous and whatever difference may have existed in the board had evidently been settled. President Clark, of the Consolidated, who is in Paris, was notified of Mr. Mellen's resignation by cable yesterday and will start for New York immediately.

THE FUNERAL OF CANOVAS

Body of the Dead Statesman Laid Away to Rest.

MADRID DRAPED IN MOURNING

Senora Canovas Says That She Forgives the Assassin Who Robbed Her of Her Husband—Prince Bismarck's Message of Condolence a Tribute to the Premier's Abilities.

Madrid, Aug. 13.—The funeral of the assassinated prime minister, Senor Canovas del Castillo, which took place this afternoon, was an imposing affair. The city was thronged with spectators, many of whom came from a distance. Everything passed off in an orderly manner.

The procession at 4:30 left the Canovas residence, where the remains had been lying in a chapel, and proceeded to the cemetery of San Isidro, which is five kilometers distant from the city.

The route was lined with troops, who formed behind the procession as it passed and marched to the cemetery. The crowds along the route showed becoming reverence as the hearse bearing the remains passed along.

The coffin was almost covered with beautiful wreaths. Among the pallbearers were Marshal Martinez Campos and Senor Sagasta, the leader of the Liberal party, who has been prominently mentioned as the successor of Senor Canovas.

Immediately behind the hearse were carriages containing members of the cabinet, the president of the Chamber of Deputies, the president of the Senate, a number of archbishops and bishops and representatives of the Queen. Behind them came a representative assemblage of political, military, naval and literary personages, members of the clergy representing every parish of the city, representatives of the state department and other official bodies, making a total official procession of about 3,000 persons.

In addition to these there were many deputations from the provinces and other contingents who swelled the number in the procession to enormous proportions.
The entire route from the house to the cemetery was strewn with laurel. In addition to the crowds on the streets the windows and balconies were crowded with the route were thronged with sympathetic on-lookers.

All the public and many of the private buildings were draped with black and this gave a somber appearance to the city.

There was a salvo of artillery when the procession started, and guns were fired at intervals throughout the ceremony.

When the casket was placed in the vault all the church bells in the city were tolled.
There was an affecting incident as the body was removed from the mortuary chapel. Senora Canovas, whose love for her husband was known to every one, said to those near her:

"I wish everybody to know that I forgive the assassin of my husband; that is the greatest sacrifice I can make, and I make it because I knew his great heart."

Prince Bismarck has sent a message of condolence to Senora Canovas, in which he declares that he never bowed down to anybody, but he inclined his head whenever he heard the name of Canovas del Castillo.

CANOVAS SAVED GOLLIS.

The Prime Minister Unwittingly Made the Fatal Blow Possible.

Havana, Aug. 13.—Among the many interesting details of the assassination of Canovas cabled to Havana by the Madrid correspondent of La Luchas, since last Sunday, is the fact that the assassin, Gollis, or Angiolini, attacked Canovas on the evening of July 27, at San Sebastian, and was neither arrested nor watched afterward by the police, because the prime minister gave orders not to molest the Anarchist.

CHICAGO LOSES VAST SUMS

Dishonest Officials Have Defrauded Her of Fully $200,000.

A Crooked Manipulation of Rebates on Water Taxes—Proof of the Frauds Ample.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—The civil service commission investigating affairs in the city water office today discovered irregularities which implicate former employees of the department in a conspiracy to defraud the city. It is believed that the city is loser to the extent of fully $200,000.

The following ex-officials are involved thus far: Frank Nye, ex-superintendent of the meter bureau; William O. Lamont, ex-chief clerk of the water department; C.
Milton Jones, ex-head bookkeeper of the department.

Irregularities innumerable are charged to the manipulation of Lamont. He was discharged under the swift administration as the result of disclosures in regard to his official conduct.

The alleged system by which the city was defrauded was a crooked manipulation of rebates on water taxes. Large sums due the city were "kitted" "outside," receipts being given in full, though the amounts paid were much smaller than the books showed were due. Approval of rebates was made by using a duplicate stamp, indicating that the commissioner of public works had sanctioned them.

son of M. K. Morely, of Kansas City, superintendent of the Kansas City, Pitts-

DEATH OF POM KWANG SOH

The Illustrious Korean Quietly Passes Away From Earth.

MANY MOURN HIS DEMISE

The Theosophical Society Will Conduct the Last Rites and His Body Will Be Reduced to Ashes at Lee's Crematory—Sketch of a Noteworthy Career.

Pom Kwang Soh, minister of the privy council to the King of Korea, ex-minister from Korea to the United States, and one of the most prominent statesmen of his kingdom, died yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, at his residence in this city, No. 2819 Fourteenth street. His body now lies in state at his late residence, and last night was viewed by many whose good fortune it was to enjoy a personal acquaintance with him. Death was due to consumption, from which he has suffered for some time.

The news of Mr. Soh's death, though not unexpected, was received in diplomatic and social circles with sincere regret. Mr. Soh has made his home in Washington for several years, and enjoyed a wide acquaintance. The Korean minister, Chin Pon Ye, called at his late residence last night to express his regret at the sad occurrence, and to convey his sincere condolences to the family.
He was once sent off to the King of Korea, announcing the death of his adviser and minister. It is expected that the State Department will today convey a message of regret to the Korean minister, to be transmitted to the king.

The son of the King of Korea, Prince Eul Wha, who has been studying in this city for some months, was at the bedside of the minister when he died. Prince Min, a relative of this Queen of Korea, is also here, together with Mr. H. S. Pak, the minister's secretary. The Korean minister called on Mr. Soh a short time before his death.

Mr. Soh has been critically ill since last Saturday evening, when a long bicycle ride brought on an acute attack, causing a hemorrhage. Since that time he has been confined to his bed, and little hope has been entertained for his recovery. His death was looked for at any time during the past three days. Dr. Bishop, of I street, has been in constant attendance since Saturday.

Mr. Soh has been for a number of years a Theosophist, and has of late been a frequent attendant at the local branch of the Theosophical Society of America. The local society will have entire charge of the funeral arrangements, by Mr. Soh's own request. In pursuance of the creed of the Theosophy, as body will be cremated at Lee's crematory, on Pennsylvania avenue, near Third street, tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. President Coffin, of the local Theosophical Society, will probably conduct the services, which will be of the simplest character possible, in accordance with Theosophical beliefs.

His father and mother died in prison in Korea while he was in political exile, and he was never married. He had, however, in his household a number of his young countrymen, who were studying in this country, and by whom he was highly esteemed. A year ago last February he came to this country as minister to the United States, which mission he held until last September, when his successor, Chin Pon Ye, was appointed.

Mr. Soh disliked returning to Korea, as his life in Washington was so pleasant, and he determined to remain here permanently. Only a few months ago he purchased the handsome residence, No. 2819 Fourteenth street, and furnished it throug-out in costly Korean style. After his successor as minister had been appointed, the king, in order to show the high esteem

DROWNING OF DR. COUMBE

Fatal Accident to a Dentist of This City.

ON THE MARYLAND SHORE

Knocked Out of a Sailboat in a Stiff Breeze—Heroic Work at Rescue by His Friend, Mr. John Muir—Members of the Party All Washingtonians.

Mrs. Dr. Oscar H. Coumbe arrived in the city last night from Easton, Md., and reported that her brother-in-law, Dr.
Eppa H. Coumbe, the well-known young dentist, whose office is at No. 1216 F street, in this city, was drowned while sailing in Chesapeake Bay yesterday morning. Her husband is still at the scene of the accident and is having the body dragged for.

With a party of ladies and gentlemen numbering about fifteen or twenty, he left the city ten days ago for a camping expedition.

The Eastern Shore of Maryland was selected as the best place to spend their vacation, and the party has been stopping at various points in Queen Anne's and Talbot counties. A sailboat had been chartered, and in this the excursionists were accustomed to take short trips.

On Thursday Dr. Coumbe and Mr. John Muir, the manager of a department at Robinson & Cherry's, went out in the boat. They are said to have been inexperienced watermen.

A stiff breeze arose when the boat was some distance from the shore. The sail flew around with the breeze and Dr.
Coumbe was knocked overboard. The water at this point is sixty feet deep. Mr.
Muir, seeing his friend struggling in the water, jumped overboard, but before he could get near the drowning man, the doctor disappeared.

It was with some difficulty that the party on shore were able to rescue Mr.
Muir. The members of the party made arrangements to have the body dragged for, and they assisted in the work.

The first news reached Washington when Mrs. Dr. Coumbe arrived in the city last night.

Dr. Coumbe was a young man of prominence, and had recently graduated with honors from a local dental school. His brother is Mr. Alfred Coumbe, a well-known attorney, associated with Col. Edward Hay.
Another brother is an eminent physician in this city, where he has practiced for years. The intelligence of the doctor's death will be received with sorrow by many friends. He was active in arduous social functions, and was rapidly acquiring a large practice in the highest social circles of the city.

ASSASSIN GOLLIS'S TRIAL.

It Will Begin on Monday Before a Court-Martial.

Madrid, Aug. 13.—The court-martial which will try Gollis, the assassin of Senor Canovas, will meet at Vegara on Monday, and will probably sit for a week.
It will be composed of six captains in the army, and will be presided over by a colonel. In compliance with the law, an advocate for the prisoner has been appointed. This is Lieut. Gorria, who will submit a defense that Gollis is insane.

It is very certain that this plea will not prevail, and that the prisoner will be sentenced to death. He will probably be garroted, not shot.

The Augustin and Dominican Friars are trying with ill success to convert Gollis in reply to their appeals, he invites them to prove the existence of God.

The official gazette today publishes an appeal to the navy to refrain from publishing the details of the details of anarchists, as such publication is calculated to invest them with importance.

MANY SEEK KLONDIKE GOLD.

Vast Schemes Reported of Syndicates and Millionaires.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 13.—The great gold fields of Alaska have attracted the attention of big plunders in England, and they are preparing to send 5,000 Englishmen into the Northwest Territory. A syndicate composed of the biggest financiers in London and New York have agreed to meet with the same fate had he not escaped to Japan, where he studied and completed his education. He then came to America, this being about ten years ago. He was remarkably well educated, and through influential friends here he later obtained a position under the Government during President Harrison's Administration. He was successively employed in the Census Office, the National Museum and finally in the Bureau of Education.

A change in the rulers having taken place in Korea, and his political party, the Progressives, being at that time in the ascendancy, he was recalled and appointed supreme minister of justice, the most powerful officer of the kingdom, whose decrees the king himself cannot alter.
He was then only a trifle over thirty years of age, and he held the office over two years, completely reforming many customs of his people and introducing in their stead American customs which he had acquired during his residence in America. He secured the adoption of the United States monetary system and many other American laws and usages. At the end of his administration as supreme judge, he was appointed minister to the United States, which post he held until another of the periodical political revolutions took place, which a new party gaining power, brought about the appointment of his successor.

has long been existent among English residents in India, and which has been discussed by the Anglo-Indian press, that the Ameer of Afghanistan is plotting or convinced at the risings of the frontier tribesmen, has been startlingly strengthened by a report that was circulated in Bombay today to the effect that the Ameer had recalled all his agents in India.
One report declares that the Ameer is forming Mohammedan disaffection in India, and that he has sent thousands of copies of pamphlets on a Jihad, or holy war, to the native Indian residents.

An effusion which appeared on July 27 in the Indian Daily News, went on enthusiastically over the victories that had been achieved by the Sultan of Turkey.
It declared that the lethargy of the Mahomedans had ended. They had awakened from their sleep, and would recover the former glories and grandeur of Islam. The article is couched in a Jihad, or holy war, to the native Indian residents.

"Our faithful co-religionists assure us that his majesty of Kabul (the Ameer of Afghanistan) is ready to come gloriously to rid us of the thrall of the Christian yoke."
